Installing VidyoDesktop on Windows 8

In Windows 8, Microsoft changed some of the user permissions in an effort to tighten account security. Because of this, a small number of Vidyo users may receive the following message when attempting to install VidyoDesktop:

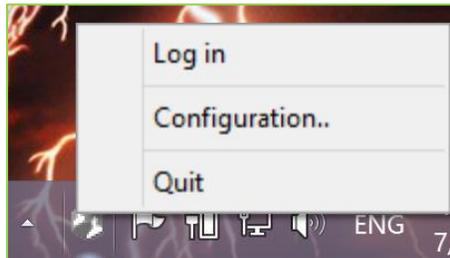

Vidyo is working to resolve this issue in future versions of VidyoDesktop. In the meantime, Vidyo has identified a workaround to overcome this issue. If you receive the error message shown above, simply follow the steps in the remainder of this document to successfully complete your VidyoDesktop installation.

Note: You must have administrator rights to perform the following steps.

To complete the VidyoDesktop installation on Windows 8:

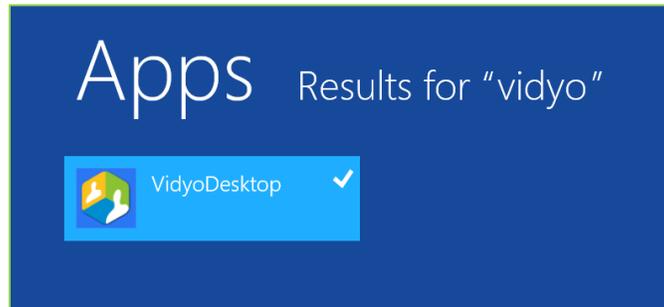

1. Right-click the VidyoDesktop icon in the system tray and select Quit.

2. Click the Windows Search button (located at the top right corner of the Windows desktop).

3. Search for "vidyo".

4. Right-click VidyoDesktop in the search results and select Run as administrator from the menu options.

5. When the User Account Control pop-up appears, click Yes.

Note: Depending on your system setup, you may be asked to enter administrator credentials.

6. Open a browser and log back into the VidyoPortal™, or if you are using a guest link, click the link again and join the conference.
